Summary

Introduction to Clauses and Sentences

- * A clause is a group of words with a subject and a predicate (verb)
- * Two main types of clauses:
 - * Independent clause: can stand alone as a complete sentence
 - * Dependent clause (subordinate clause): cannot stand alone, needs to be connected to an independent clause

Types of Clauses

- * Independent clause: has a subject and verb, expresses a complete thought
- * Dependent clause: has a subject and verb, but does not express a complete thought
- * Types of dependent clauses:
 - * Adjective clause: describes a noun or pronoun
 - * Adverb clause: describes how, when, why, to what extent
 - * Noun clause: acts as a noun (subject or object)

Types of Sentences

- * Simple sentence: one independent clause, no dependent clause
- * Compound sentence: two or more independent clauses, no dependent clause
- * Complex sentence: one independent clause, one or more dependent clauses

- * Compound-complex sentence: at least two independent clauses, one or more dependent clauses
